Frank L. Davis, agent of the Windham County Farmers' association, announced on Wednesday that he has completed ar to the bank a golf ball marked with the initials H. J. T. The ball was found on the farm of the late Frank Day. Inquiry rangements for six culling demonstrations to be held on Windham county farms on Sept. 29 and 21. There will be three demonstrations on each of these days. The demonstrations will be conducted by the farm of the late Frank Day. Inquiry reveals that the only golf links located on the river north of the point where the ball was found are those of the Country club at Putnam, and reference to the membership list of that club shows that Henry J. Thayer is the only goifer whose initials correspond to the ones that were marked on the ball. In all probability while playing the seventh hole on the Putnam links, which lies adjacent to the river, Mr. Thayer drove his ball into the Quinebaug, where it floated for six miles to the point in Brooklyn where it was found.
